CHINA NATIONAL SYMPOSIUM ON COMBUSTION

Harbin, Heilongjiang Province, China, September 13-16, 2018

Announcement

The 2018 China National Symposium on Combustion will be held at Harbin, Heilongjiang Province during September 13-16, 2018. All the technical sessions including the Opening and Farewell ceremony, and poster sessions, will be held at Victories Hotel. The technical program will consist of contributed papers and Work-in-Progress poster sessions. Invited lectures and topical reviews will be presented by eminent specialists.

The China National Symposium on Combustion has been held annually for many years, and has been a most well-known academic conference in Chinese combustion community. In 2017, More than 1,300 delegates from 125 institutions in China, United States, Australia, South Korea, Sweden and New Zealand attended the China National Symposium on Combustion. Five plenary lectures and 12 topical reviews were presented by eminent specialists on multiple topics of fundamental combustion research. In total, 259 oral presentations and 336 posters were presented during the symposium. Besides, papers in English were accepted for the first time and there were two sections with presentations in English.

Historically, the language for this symposium was only Chinese. From 2017, this symposium started to accept papers in English. There were two sections with presentations in English in 2017. We encourage submissions from attendees who come from different countries or regions. Chinese researchers are also encouraged to submit and present their recent work in English. Instructions for paper format and submissions are available at the meeting website (<http://combust2018.csp.escience.cn/>). Since the paper submission system is in Chinese, please directly email your paper to Prof. Zheng Chen (Program Co-chair, cz@pku.edu.cn) if you can't read Chinese. Paper Template and Instructions will be provided on the meeting website before April 10th, 2018.

The schedule for paper submissions is:

- April 15 – Paper submission opens
- May 15 – Paper submission deadline
- July 5 – Notification of accepted paper
- August 25 – Announcement of program schedule

You are welcome to submit your papers to 2018 China National Symposium on Combustion!
